Education: Bachelor's degree, 1986, Western Washington University; Juris Doctorate, 1990, University of Washington.

Occupation: Private attorney for crime victims, abused and neglected children, senior citizens, and small business.

Professional Qualifications: Twelve years legal experience; Former judge pro tem; National Crime Victims Bar Association.

Personal Information: Washington State native who worked her way through college and law school. Married to Andy, a Boeing engineer, for fourteen years. Small business owner for eleven years.

Community Involvement: Auburn Planning Commission, Chamber of Commerce, and Kiwanis; Western Washington University Alumni Board.

Personal Views: I'm proud of my work as an advocate for abused and neglected children and victims of domestic violence. I help crime victims restore their lives and work with the justice system to hold criminals accountable. I help seniors protect their homes and I am fighting to keep sex predators out of our neighborhoods. I will fight to reduce prescription costs and expand care options so seniors can stay in their homes. I am a strong supporter of education and believe in teaching the basics and enhancing job training programs. We need traffic solutions, keeping our tax dollars working in our communities. I will take my professional experience delivering results for people to ensure our community is strongly represented in the Legislature.
