Proposition No. 2
Submitted by Pierce County
EAST GIG HARBOR WATER DISTRICT SPECIAL LEVY

Official Ballot Title: The Pierce County Council adopted Resolution R2001-193sl concerning levy authority for financing the new water district's preliminary expenses. This proposition will authorize the East Gig Harbor Water District, if formed, to impose and levy, upon all taxable property within the district, and at the earliest time permitted by law, a single-year special levy of $1.25 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation, with the proceeds of the levy being available for payment of the district's preliminary expenses, and for payment of other district general expenses, all as more particularly described in Resolution R2001-193sl. Should this proposition be approved?

SPECIAL LEVY ... YES
 SPECIAL LEVY ... NO

Explanatory Statement: The Pierce County Council has adopted Resolution R2001-193sl. This Resolution approves a petition for formation of East Gig Harbor Water District, establishes boundaries and calls for an election. The petition proposing formation of the district was signed by more than 10 percent of the qualified electors who resided within the district on the date of the filing of the petition. The election involves two propositions as well as provision for the election of three initial district commissioners. The first proposition is one to approve or reject the formation of the district. The second proposition is one authorizing the district, if created, to impose a single-year excess levy, at the rate of $1.25 per thousand dollars of assessed value, for payment of both preliminary and general expenses of the district. The election of the three initial district commissioners shall be null and void if the ballot proposition to form the district is not approved. The Resolution approving the petition also requested that the Auditor conduct the election by mail ballot.
